

SUBJECT: Captured Document Holdings of CIA

14722 59-410

1. The majority of captured Japanese documents reviewed by this Agency for intelligence purposes have been declassified and turned over to the Library of Congress and the National Archives. A small number of classified documents remain and these, after review, will gradually be turned over to the National Archives. These classified documents should be retained indefinitely by the US. Because of their nature they should be exempted from any present plans for restitution and should not be finally released without the concurrence of this Agency.

2. These classified documents are only available to authorized representatives of the intelligence agencies at this time.

3. This Agency knows of no commitment regarding the restitution of captured Japanese documents.

4. This Agency holds no captured German or Italian documents.
